

Mardi Gras is a Christian festival that takes place on “Fat Tuesday, the Tuesday before Ash Wednesday. It refers to the old custom of eating all the fats in the house before Lent, which is a time when something (like a bad habit) is given up. What would you be willing to give up for one day, week, month, or year? Explain your thinking.